CHALLENGE

Accurate, on time SEC filing as a newly public company with a small team

Having completed their IPO in June 2021, Janux was newer to SEC reporting deadlines and requirements which increased the pressure on their relatively small finance department. It was challenging to remain up-to-date with the latest SEC guidance while ensuring their quarter close procedures were completed in a timely manner. Additionally, they were facing challenges managing change control within their required filings.

SOLUTION

New ActiveDisclosure for Accurate, Secure, Innovative Financial Reporting

Janux needed an innovative, affordable solution that could help their small finance team comply with SEC public company filing requirements and submit their data accurately and on time. New ActiveDisclosure handles all the heavy-lifting of SEC filing saving our client time and money to focus on more strategic tasks. The combination of highly intuitive new ActiveDisclosure tools with expert customer service allowed our client to confidently submit their SEC filing as a new public company.

We have greatly appreciated the responsiveness, expertise, and innovative solutions from the professionals at DFIN. The new ActiveDisclosure software is intuitive and helps us comply with SEC public company filing requirements, but even more impressive is the customer service from the team. We've had many last-minute questions and updates to filings within new ActiveDisclosure, which were all fielded quickly. The DFIN team has played a huge role in our transition as a public company.
