CHALLENGE

Boost collaboration to save time and drive efficiencies

With a variety of projects, Revolution Medicines was challenged when it came to real-time collaboration with their team and needed to find a way to simplify their financial reporting process.

Revolution Medicines was in search of a tool that allowed for team members to review documents simultaneously and review XBRL tagging. Since they did not have a way to collaborate in real-time, this led to hours of manual review, which was time-consuming and led to errors in XBRL tagging.
