CHALLENGE

Making it easier for legal and finance teams to work together

STAAR Surgical was successfully using ActiveDisclosure for financial reporting and SEC filing, and greatly benefited from the easy-to-use and time-saving collaboration it enabled among its financial team.

They wanted to experience similar benefits during their proxy disclosure projects involving legal staff, financial staff and others.

SOLUTION

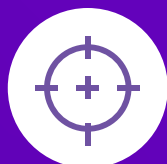

Use ActiveDisclosure for proxy statements

STARR Surgical was already using ActiveDisclosure for preparing and filing SEC Forms 8-Ks, 10-Qs and 10-Ks, so using it for proxy statements was a natural next step. DFIN is continuously innovating its solutions, and recent enhancements further expanding content design, layout, and styling capabilities made it possible for STARR to upgrade its proxy disclosure with ActiveDisclosure software backed by DFIN project management and subject matter experts.

EASY-TO-USE COLLABORATION FEATURES

Securely share document access with internal and external users.

MODERN DESIGNS WITH IMPRESSIVE GRAPHICS

Multi-column formats, advanced text styles, graphical charts and more.

FAMILIAR USER INTERFACE FOR TEAM MEMBERS

Links to Excel for financial staff and works like Word for legal staff.

In our opinion, the unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly, T

ActiveDisclosure has helped improve our public reporting and disclosure efforts by making it easier for the legal and financial reporting teams to collaborate. Working together on a document in the platform, while sharing ideas and reviewing each other's work, drives better results.”

“Now, doing our proxy in ActiveDisclosure means we can prepare a quality document with good disclosure that also looks good and will represent the company well. I love that ActiveDisclosure makes it easy to use more charts, colors and graphics.”

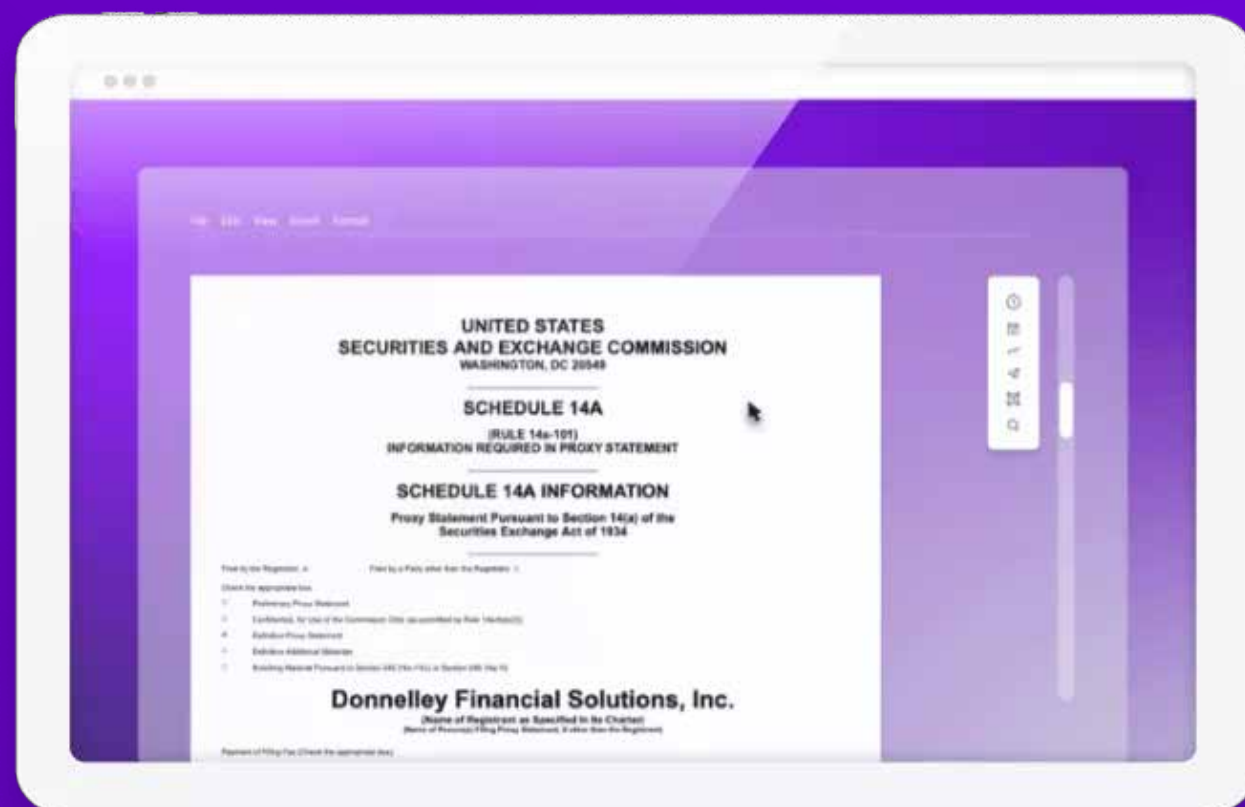

NATHANIEL (NATE) SISITSKY

Senior VP, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary
