Confidently Comply with Form PF Requirements with DFIN's All-in-One ArcRegulatory[®] Solution

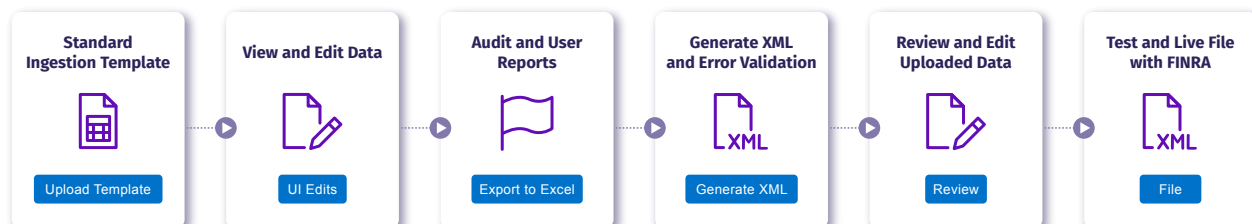

Simplify your filing process. Depend on the industry leader — DFIN.

Form PF is a regulatory filing required by the SEC for investment advisers who manage private funds, hedge funds and private equity funds. To enhance transparency and oversight in the private fund sector and help regulators better monitor systemic risk, the SEC is ushering in more changes in 2026 that will make the reporting process even more challenging and time consuming.

Streamline your Form PF process with ArcRegulatory

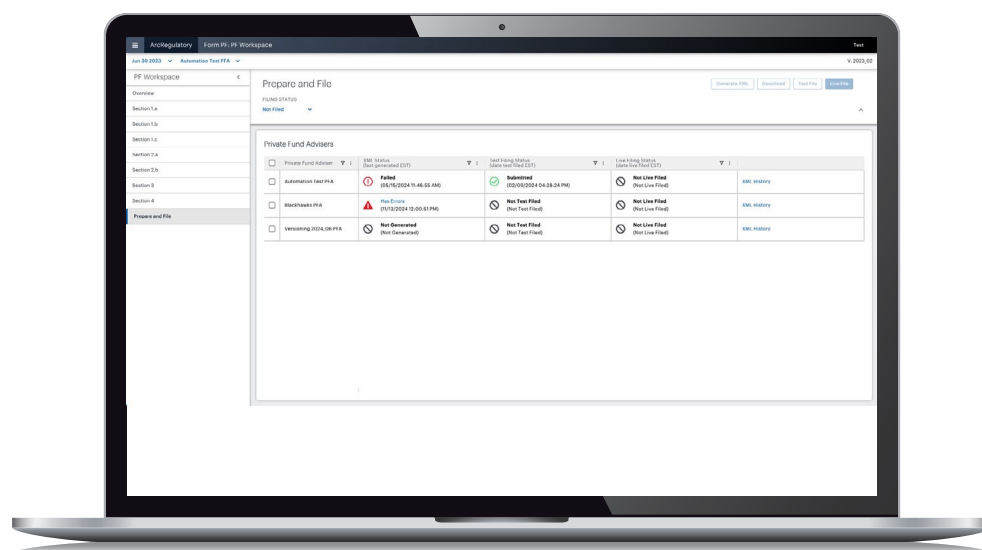

At DFIN, we understand the intricacies of Form PF filings. Investment managers must handle various file formats and complex data input to provide critical operational and financial data for private funds — including investment strategies, asset levels, leverage, counterparty exposures and investor information. Then Form PF must be filed with FINRA on a quarterly or annual basis depending on the adviser's assets under management.

ArcRegulatory, DFIN's innovative global reporting platform, allows you to easily perform these complex regulatory activities through a single, streamlined application. A proven, secure web-based platform, this tool was designed by DFIN's experts to consolidate data and produce XML files that can be easily filed with FINRA.
